Banner Witcoff Duo to Speak at Chicago Video Game Law Summit

October 25, 2019

Banner Witcoff attorneys Scott M. Kelly and Kirk A. Sigmon will discuss challenges in patenting video games and virtual reality on Oct. 25 at the 5th Annual Chicago Video Game Law Summit (CVGLS). Banner Witcoff is sponsoring the event, which will take place at the Chicago Bar Association.

As part of their session, Scott and Kirk will examine the challenges related to patenting video games and virtual reality, and explore how virtual and augmented reality further change the game.

Scott will also speak on a panel discussing 2019's hot topics in video game law, including legislation, litigation and transactions.

CVGLS is a daylong event featuring discussions on the latest developments in video game law by game developers, industry representatives and legal experts. Click here for more information or to register.