Banner & Witcoff sponsors Design Law 2018 in Washington, D.C.

October 24, 2018

Banner & Witcoff is again partnering with the George Washington University School of Law and law firm Sterne Kessler to produce the Design Patent Symposium, “DESIGN LAW 2018.”

The purpose of the program is to present and foster debate on cutting edge design-related topics. The program will be directed toward an audience of design practice leaders throughout the U.S.; however, we expect that many others with an interest in design law will also be in attendance. We expect corporate practitioners, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office representatives, product designers, professors and students to attend.

The symposium will be held at the National Education Association in Washington, D.C., on Wednesday, October 24. Information on https://designlaw2018.com/ will be regularly updated.