Kirk Sigmon to Participate in ChatGPT and IP Roundtable Webinar

Attorney Kirk Sigmon will participate in a ChatGPT and intellectual property webinar on Friday, May 26, at noon EST. The roundtable will feature over 20 top-level IP counsel, patent experts, and law firm partners.

The webinar will explore how ChatGPT and generative AI are changing the intellectual property landscape and how it will impact IP law firms and teams. Kirk and his co-panelists will be:

- Discussing the ethical and legal considerations around the use of generative AI and ChatGPT,
- Understanding the implications of generative AI and ChaptGPT for the creation and protection of intellectual property assets,
- Analyzing the potential impact of generative AI and Chat GPT on patent drafting and prosecution, patent litigation, and IP portfolio management, and
- Exploring best practices for intellectual property attorneys and patent agents to leverage new and rapidly expanding tools provided by generative AI.

You can learn more about this virtual event by clicking here.