Darrell G. Mottley comments on the future of the D.C. Bar in Washington Lawyer

Darrell G. Mottley discusses why promoting inclusion and engaging national and global membership are key to the D.C. Bar's future in Washington Lawyer.

In the article, "2010s: Solidifying the Bar's Future," Mr. Mottley, a past president of the D.C. Bar, says: "I am hoping [the Bar] will accomplish a new model of engaging its members and the entire D.C. Bar community. I would like to see attempts to engage millennials and new lawyers coming into the profession."

Click here to read the article.

Posted: July 6, 2017