Darrell G. Mottley featured in GW Law article on alumni who give back to the D.C. Bar

Darrell G. Mottley comments on his work as president of the D.C. Bar in The George Washington University Law School article on alumni who have shaped the organization in various ways.

Mr. Mottley, who served as president from 2011-2012, supported the organization's first blog, DC Bar Voices, as well as its pro bono efforts with service in various clinics in the D.C. Bar Pro Bono Center.

Click here to read the article.

Posted: July 17, 2017