Husky Injection Molding Systems Legal Department Recognized for Innovation

September 4, 2012

InsideCounsel magazine named Husky Injection Molding Systems' legal department as a 2012 IC-10 winner in its September issue.

The IC-10 is an annual list compiled by InsideCounsel through nominations submitted by readers. Those who make the list show a knack for creatively solving problems facing law departments. Husky was recognized for its innovative approach to risk assessment and intellectual property protection.

Banner & Witcoff congratulates firm client Husky Injection Molding Systems for its achievement. Read more about Husky's winning concept online at InsideCounsel.

Posted: September 4, 2012