

Matthew P. Becker discusses the prospects for Patent Reform in 2011, in a Chemical & Engineering News article

January 18, 2011

Mr. Becker discusses how the revival of the IP subcommittee in the House should help increase the chances of Patent Reform passing in the next two years, in a Chemical & Engineering News article titled "Patent Reform: Revived Subcommittee To Focus On Intellectual Property."

Please click here to read the article.

Posted: January 18, 2011