Robert Katz Presents on Trade Dress in Fashion for Inter-American Association of Intellectual Property Advanced Fashion Law Course

Shareholder Robert Katz will discuss trade dress in fashion for the Inter-American Association of Intellectual Property (ASIPI) Advanced Fashion Law Course on Wednesday, April 9, 2025. The session will explain what trade dress is, its application, and its importance in the fashion law industry.

According to its website, the Advanced Fashion Law course offers solid and practical knowledge of the fashion law industry to learn how to offer legal advice to clients in the sector, such as textile manufacturers, retailers, clothing, footwear, accessory designers, cosmetics, and perfume.

You can find more information on the ASIPI Advanced Fashion Law course by clicking here.