

Daniel (Dongil) Moon

Attorney
Washington, DC
dmoon@bannerwitcoff.com
Main: 202.824.3000
Fax: 202.824.3001

Daniel focuses his practice on the preparation and prosecution of both domestic and foreign patent applications. He has both legal and industry experience in a variety of technologies, including telecommunications, semi-conductor devices, display devices, and computer software.

He also has experience in standards essential patents in a variety of technologies, including 3GPP mobile telecommunications standards and video coding standards.

Prior to joining the firm, Daniel worked in the legal industry as a patent agent/technical specialist at a U.S. law firm. Prior to beginning his U.S. patent practice, he was a Korean patent attorney and worked on patent prosecution, litigation, patent map projects, and licensing negotiation at a Korean law firm. Prior to beginning his legal career, Daniel was an information technology officer in Republic of Korea Air Force.

Daniel earned a B.S. in electrical engineering with a minor in business administration from Seoul National University, a M.S. in management from Georgia Institute of Technology, and a J.D. with high honors from The George Washington University Law School.

Education

B.S.E.E. 2003, Seoul National University
M.S. 2011, Georgia Institute of Technology
J.D. 2020, The George Washington University Law School

Admissions

Bar Admissions
2020, District of Columbia

Court Admissions
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Korean Intellectual Property Office

Affiliations/Memberships

American Bar Association (ABA)

News + Events + Related Publications

NEWS - 04.23.20

PTAB Highlights | Takeaways From Recent Decisions in Post-Issuance Proceedings