Katz. “We are grateful that our design-driven clients trust us to protect their most important designs.

While Banner Witcoff has had the privilege of representing many larger-sized design-driven clients, it has also helped many smaller and medium-sized clients obtain important protection for it designs. Indeed, the firm has procured portfolios of 20 or more design patents for over 60 different clients. Said Robert Katz, “our experience and strategies have helped our clients protect their designs regardless of the size of their portfolios.”
