Banner & Witcoff represents America's Biggest Companies

October 1, 2013

Banner & Witcoff was again named to Corporate Counsel magazine's "Who Represents America's Biggest Companies?" survey. This year, our firm was recognized for handling intellectual property litigation and patent prosecution for several Fortune 500 companies, including The Allstate Corp., Kimberly-Clark Corp., and NIKE Inc. The firm was also mentioned in "Brain Trust," an accompanying article on changing IP litigation.

Corporate Counsel, a monthly magazine for in-house attorneys, covers business issues and legal affairs, and reports on the latest developments in the corporate world. Please see below for a copy of the 2013 survey and article.

Posted: October 28, 2013