May 14, 2012

Banner & Witcoff, Ltd., a national intellectual property law firm dedicated to the procurement, enforcement and litigation of intellectual property rights throughout the world, welcomes thirteen summer associates to the firm.
The following law students will join Banner & Witcoff's Chicago office, Washington, D.C. office and Boston office as summer associates:

- Rick Bisenius, Chicago, University of Chicago Law School;
- Aaron Bowling, Chicago and DC, George Washington University Law School;
- Adam College, Washington D.C., Georgetown School of Law;
- Ramina Davidson, Washington D.C., Georgetown School of Law;
- Jeremiah Egger, Washington D.C., University of Virginia School of Law;
- Ryan Furtado, Chicago, Washington University Law School;
- Joaquin Hernandez, Chicago, Chicago-Kent College of Law;
- Sean Hyberg, Washington D.C., George Washington University Law School;
- Greg Israelsen, Washington D.C., Brigham Young University Law School;
- Caitlin Olwell, Chicago, Northwestern University School of Law;
- Julia Onorato, Chicago, Northwestern University School of Law;
- Saurabh Prabhakar, Washington D.C., George Washington University Law School;
- Brandon Val Zuniga, Boston, Boston University School of Law.

Law students are selected for the summer associate program based on their strong academic records in law school and undergraduate studies, technical backgrounds, and personal achievements.

The summer associate program is a significant part of Banner & Witcoff's recruiting program and is designed to provide the law students with an educational and meaningful law firm experience. Summer associates work on a wide variety of legal assignments and are immersed in the firm's unique culture. Educational programming and social activities round out the program. A high percentage of the firm's full time associates have completed the summer associate program.
