Richard S. Stockton participates in a podcast on gTLDs with the American Marketing Association

January 5, 2012

Richard S. Stockton is interviewed by the American Marketing Association on the topic of generic top level domains. Please click here to listen to the podcast. The podcast is also available on the American Marketing Association website.
On December 15, 2011, Richard Stockton led a webinar on the topic of generic top level domains. Please click here to view the slides and a recording of the webinar.

Posted: December 16, 2011