

Zhengyu Feng, Ph.D.

Attorney
Washington, DC
zfeng@bannerwitcoff.com
Main: 202.824.3000
Fax: 202.824.3001

Zhengyu Feng, Ph.D., focuses on patent prosecution and opinions for clients in the life sciences industry. He helps clients prepare and prosecute patent applications, including management of worldwide patent portfolios. He also performs portfolio valuation and diligence on patent portfolios, for example, by rendering patentability, validity, and freedom-to-operate opinions.

Articles and Publications

- Feng co-authored the article After Supernus: It's Up to You to Keep Your Patent Alive All Its Days for JD Supra

Education

---

Fudan University
1995, B.S., Biochemistry

University of Nebraska Medical Center
2002, Ph.D., Medical Sciences/Microbiology

University of Houston Law Center
2007, J.D.

Languages

---

Mandarin
Native

Admissions

---

Bar Admissions
2007, Virginia
2008, District of Columbia

Court Admissions
District of Columbia Court of Appeals
Superior Court of the District of Columbia
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office

Practices

---

Counseling, Opinions + Licensing
Patent Prosecution

Industries

---

Chemistry + Chemical Engineering
Life Sciences + Pharmaceuticals

Affiliations/Memberships

---

Co-Chair (2021-2023), of IP Practice in China Committee, American Intellectual Property Law Association

Recent News + Events + Related Publications

---

NEWS - 08.07.24

PTAB Highlights | Takeaways from Recent Decisions

NEWS - 12.20.22

PTAB Highlights | Takeaways from Recent Decisions in Post-Issuance Proceedings

NEWS - 09.07.22

Banner Witcoff Expands Life Sciences Practice with New Attorney and Patent Agent